Learn - Women must have the knowledge to effectively manage their finances, and the confidence to do so. Without comprehensive financial education and coaching, women and girls will not have the information and skills to change the behavior.

Earn - Success in the workplace depends on having appropriate education and training, as well as social supports such as reliable transportation and childcare. Without the necessary training to qualify for and perform well-paying jobs, and the social supports to remain in these positions, women cannot fully participate in the workforce.

Keep - To increase economic security, women must keep, and eventually grow, their money and assets. Security isn't just about earning more money. Women must also Keep a large percentage of that income by reducing debt, increasing savings, and eventually acquiring assets.
